

I urge Chairman Powell to delay the vote on deregulation and hold open public meetings on the issue. It has become clear in the past several weeks that the American public has concerns and questions about this issue that deserve to be heard and answered honestly. By refusing to extend the deadline for a vote and not allowing more public hearings, Chairman Powell is violating the public trust and is acting in clear defiance of the will of the American people.